Hooray! It's a board book! When an amazing hat arrives on Elephant's doorstep, he discovers that the best cheer-up of all comes from sharing with friends.

Hooray for Hat! (Board Book)

Brian Won

Elephant is GRUMPY until—ding dong! Hooray! It's a fabulous hat! Will Elephant's friend Zebra like it? Turns out, Zebra is having a grumpy day too—until Elephant shares his marvelous hat. Off they march to find Turtle, then Owl, then Lion. But what about Giraffe, who is having the worst day of all? When the others come together to share a creative surprise for Giraffe, it's the best cheer-up ever. With exuberant illustrations and colorful type in a sturdy board book format, Hooray for Hat! will prompt every young reader to shout, "Hooray for hat! Hooray for friends!"

Brian Won is an illustrator, author, and former animation artist. Hooray for Hat!, his picture book debut, was named a Huffington Post Best Picture Book and an NPR Best Book. He lives with his family near Los Angeles, California. Visit his website at www.brianwon.com.

Does baby Billy have a good-guy mustache or a bad-guy mustache? Everyone's favorite facial-haired baby is now in board book format!

Mustache Baby (Board Book)

Bridget Heos, illustrated by Joy Ang

When Baby Billy is born with a mustache, his family takes it in stride. They are reassured when he nobly saves the day in imaginary-play sessions as a cowboy or cop and his mustache looks good-guy great. But as time passes, their worst fears are confirmed when little Billy's mustache starts to curl up at the ends in a suspiciously villainous fashion. Sure enough, "Billy's disreputable mustache led him into a life of dreadful crime." Plenty of tongue-in-cheek humor and cartoonish illustrations make this board book the perfect baby-shower gift for a mustachioed father-to-be.

Bridget Heos is the author of thirteen young adult nonfiction books, including Mustache Baby Meets His Match. She lives in Kansas City, Missouri, with her husband and sons. Visit her website at www.authorbridgetheos.com.

Joy Ang is the illustrator of I Will Not Read This Book and Mustache Baby Meets His Match and has worked in the comic and gaming industries. She lives in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Visit her website at www.joyang.ca.

Everywhere Babies (Padded Board Book)

Susan Meyers, illustrated by Marla Frazee

* "Warm, funny, generous, this is a book that belongs in every library, and every lap."—Horn Book, starred review

Every day, everywhere, babies are born. They're kissed and dressed and rocked and fed—and completely adored by the families who love them. With an irresistible rhyming text and delightfully endearing illustrations, this is an exuberant celebration of playing, sleeping, crawling, and, of course, very noisy babies doing all the wonderful things babies do best.

Susan Meyers wrote this story to celebrate all the babies born every day and the joy they bring. She lives in San Raphael, California.

Marla Frazee has illustrated many acclaimed picture books. She won a Caldecott Honor for A Couple of Boys Have the Best Week Ever. She lives in Pasadena, California. Visit her website at marlafrazee.com.

A timely look at our rapidly changing environment through the eyes of a lost fox searching for his family in a developed area.

Faraway Fox

Jolene Thompson, illustrated by Justin K. Thompson

As Fox wanders through a strange landscape, he cannot help but be reminded—at every corner—of the streams, the trees, and the family he once knew. Fox would like nothing more than to return to his home, but it seems the cityscape has built up around him.

Follow Fox as he looks for a way back home to the wild green land where every fox belongs. Back matter shows readers the creative ways humans are helping to mitigate habitat encroachment in our towns and cities.

Jolene Thompson is a public relations and marketing executive. She lives in Los Angeles with her husband and two sons; Faraway Fox is her debut picture book.

Justin K. Thompson is an Emmy Award–winning artist with many years of experience in the motion picture and television industries. This is also his picture book debut. Visit his website at www.shinypinkbottle.tumblr.com.

What happens when you let the shark play follow the leader?
Gulp! Count one to ten and back again as a jolly group of fish play a game full of surprises.

Swallow the Leader

Danna Smith, illustrated by Kevin Sherry

An expressive group of cheerful fish play follow the leader in their ocean habitat, unaware that a shark lurks in the background. Count the fish from one to ten as each joins the game, then count back down to one when the leader snacks on a sea spider and sets off an unfortunate chain reaction (swallow the leader!). Luckily for everyone, fish number ten—the shark—gulps down his prey too quickly, and burrrrrrrp! they all swim out again.

Lively rhymed text and energetic artwork combine in this exuberant counting book that's sure to delight little ones learning their numbers.

Patience is a hard virtue for Badger to practice as he anxiously awaits the first snow of the season in this delightful wintry read.

Waiting for Snow

Marsha Diane Arnold, illustrated by Renata Liwska

Badger cannot wait one more minute for it to snow. When his friend Hedgehog explains that everything comes in its time, Badger is as unconvinced and impatient as ever. But Badger's friends have a few tricks up their sleeve to try to get the snow's attention and distract their pal in the meantime. In the end, Badger sees there's no trick—only waiting—until at last, it's time.

A picture book gem from the Newbery Honor–winning poet
Joyce Sidman and the Caldecott medalist Beth Krommes.

Before Morning

Written by Joyce Sidman and illustrated by Beth Krommes

There are planes to fly and buses to catch, but a small child wishes for a different sort of day in this exquisite picture book. When clouds gather and heavy flakes begin to fall, her invocation comes true. As a too-busy world falls silent, a family revels in the freedom and peace of a snow day.

In a spare text that reads as pure song and illustrations of astonishingly beautiful scratchboard art, Sidman and Krommes remind us that sometimes, if spoken from the heart, wishes really can come true.

Joyce Sidman received a Newbery Honor for Dark Emperor and Other Poems of the Night and many honors for her other books. She lives in Wayzata, Minnesota. Visit her website at www.joycesidman.com.

Beth Krommes received the Caldecott Medal for The House in the Night and has illustrated other acclaimed picture books. She lives in Peterborough, New Hampshire. Visit her website at www.bethkrommes.com.

A love letter to the American West that reveals the tough and tender life of its greatest hero—the cowboy.

Real Cowboys

Kate Hoefler, illustrated by Jonathan Bean

In Kate Hoefler's and Jonathan Bean's realistic and poetic picture book debut about the wide open West, the myth of rowdy, rough-riding cowboys and cowgirls is remade. A timely and multifaceted portrayal reveals a lifestyle that is as diverse as it is contrary to what we've come to expect.

Kate Hoefler received her MFA in Poetry from the University of Michigan, where she studied as a Colby fellow. This is her debut picture book.

Jonathan Bean has illustrated many picture books and won his second Boston Globe–Horn Book Award for Building Our House. He lives in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Visit his website at www.jonathanbean.com.

Annabelle takes a fanciful journey to the South Pole on a snowy day in one of four seasonal books about siblings.

Annabelle at the South Pole

R. W. Alley

Annabelle is trapped inside on a cold, wintry afternoon with her brothers and sister. When they won't stop pestering her, she sets off into the snowy backyard in search of adventure, and soon finds herself at the South Pole in the company of an abominable (but adorable) snowman. This magical winter story joins Clark in the Deep Sea, Gretchen Over the Beach, and Mitchell on the Moon in a four-book series that celebrates the power of imagination, created by the veteran children's book illustrator R. W. Alley.

R. W. Alley is the illustrator of many beloved books, including Because Your Daddy Loves You and its companions, and the Paddington Bear picture book series. He lives in Barrington, Rhode Island. Visit his website at www.rwalley.com.

Mitchell takes a fantastical trip to the moon on a crisp fall night in one of four seasonal books about siblings.

Mitchell on the Moon

R. W. Alley

It's Halloween, and Mitchell's littlest sister, Gretchen, looks up at the moon and sees that part of it is missing. Gretchen's other siblings, Annabelle and Clark, scornfully tell her that the moon is just hiding behind some clouds, but Mitchell indulges her and sets out to save the moon. A humorous and slightly scary fantasy ensues before the four children set off for trick-or-treating. This spooky fall story joins Clark in the Deep Sea, Gretchen Over the Beach, and Annabelle at the South Pole in a four-book series that celebrates the power of imagination, created by the veteran children's book illustrator R. W. Alley.

Stowaway in a Sleigh

C. Roger Mader

The cat's out of the bag and holiday adventure awaits!

When Slipper finds Mr. Furry Boots in her house, she does what any cat would do and investigates. But curiosity gets the best of her when she finds herself on a trip she hadn't planned on taking . . .

Join Slipper as she discovers that there's no place like home—especially for Christmas.

Roger Mader is a former creative director in an international advertising agency. His work took him from the U.S. to France, where he now lives with his French wife, Martine, and their cat, Pete. Pete served as the model for this book, as she did for Roger's first book, Lost Cat.

The second stunning and fun search-and-find picture book by an acclaimed designer.

Search and Spot: Go!

Laura Ljungkvist

A vibrant and playful seek-and-find picture book by the acclaimed Swedish artist and designer Laura Ljungkvist, in which the reader uncovers cars, trucks, and all kinds of things that go hidden in a dazzling array of patterns and colors. The artwork, inspired by a European aesthetic, gives this work a simple but sophisticated look that appeals to both children and adults. Things to find are cleverly concealed as each page provides a new challenge for the reader to discover. An artful and unique book for children who love Where's Waldo, Walter Wick, and Laura's first book in the series: Search and Spot: Animals!

Laura Ljungkvist is the acclaimed author/illustrator of Follow the Line, which was an L.A. Times Best Illustrated book. She is also a prominent designer who's done work for The New Yorker, Ikea, and the MoMA among other places. She lives in Brooklyn with her family.

Calico the Wonder Horse

Christmas Gift Edition

Virginia Lee Burton

Way out west in Cactus County lived a horse named Calico. She wasn't very pretty, but she was smart and could run like greased lightning. When the villain Stewy Stinker threatens to hold up Santa Claus on Christmas Eve, will Calico the Wonder Horse be able to save the day? This gift edition celebrates the 75th anniversary of this classic tale by the Caldecott medalist Virginia Lee Burton, the author of Mike Mulligan and the Steam Shovel. With beautiful new red foil-stamped cover, it's the perfect holiday present for children of all ages.

Virginia Lee Burton (1909–1968) was the author and illustrator of some of the most enduring children's books written, including Mike Mulligan and His Steam Shovel and Katy and the Big Snow. She was the winner of the 1942 Caldecott Medal for The Little House. She lived in Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Puss in Boots

Paul Galdone

When the miller hands down to his youngest son only his cat Puss, the son wonders how his father expected him to make a living with a single cat. But Puss is no ordinary feline. All he asks for is a new pair of boots, and he promises that fortune will come their way. With Puss in Boots working for him, the miller's son is in for a life-changing surprise!

Paul Galdone's retelling of this fairy tale is now part of the Folk Tale Classics series. With gold-foil stamping on the cover, this is a beautiful edition of a timeless story.

Paul Galdone illustrated almost three hundred books in his lifetime, many of which he himself wrote or retold. He is fondly remembered for his contemporary style, his bright, earthy humor, and action-filled illustrations, which will continue to delight generations to come. From the best-selling author Lisa Graff and the Caldecott Honor winner Lauren Castillo, a bedtime book with the feel of an instant classic.

It Is Not Time for Sleeping

Lisa Graff, illustrated by Lauren Castillo

As the day comes to an end, bedtime draws near. But the little boy in this book is quite sure it is NOT time for sleeping. As each piece of his evening routine is completed—helping with the dishes, playing with the dog, getting into pajamas, brushing teeth with Dad, being tucked in by Mom, and listening to a story—he becomes a little more certain: it is definitely not time for sleeping. The question is, when WILL it be time for sleeping? A rhythmic, cumulative text and lush twilight scenes come together to create a perfect bedtime book that will be treasured for generations to come.

Lisa Graff is the author of many popular middle grade novels. It Is Not Time for Sleeping is her picture book debut. She lives in eastern Pennsylvania. Visit her website at www.lisagraff.com; and follow her on Twitter @lisagraff.

The Caldecott Honor–winning artist Pamela Zagarenski explores the transcendent nature of friendship and love between a boy and his stuffed toy lion.

Henry & Leo
Pamela Zagarenski

Leo isn't just a stuffed toy, he is Henry's best friend and brother. He is as real as a tree, a cloud, the sun, the moon, the stars, and the wind. But when the two are accidentally separated, no one in Henry's family believes Leo is real enough to find his way home.

With beautiful mixed-media paintings, the Caldecott Honor–winning artist Pamela Zagarenski explores the transcendent nature of friendship and love.

Pamela Zagarenski is the winner of two Caldecott Honors, and her books have been translated into many languages. As well as illustrating picture books, she creates sculptures and has a gift card line. She lives in Connecticut. Visit her website at www.pzagarenski.com.

The third book in the sweet read-aloud series of Very Little retellings!

Very Little Sleeping Beauty
Teresa Heapy, illustrated by Sue Heap

Very Little Sleeping Beauty is adorably re-cast as a very little precocious toddler in this modern retelling of the classic tale.

Once upon a bedtime, a certain little girl isn't very sleepy at all—tomorrow is her birthday, and she is reeling with excitement. From lullaby to stories to tickles to dancing, Daddy tries just about everything to get this little toddler to go to bed. Will Very Little Sleeping Beauty finally fall asleep to rest up for her big day?

Look for all three books in this must-have read-aloud series: Very Little Red Riding Hood, Very Little Cinderella, and Very Little Sleeping Beauty.

Teresa Heapy recently swapped the office desk for the kitchen table, going from publishing books for Oxford University Press to writing books. She lives in Oxford, England, with her family.

Sue Heap has written and illustrated many books for children, including the New York Times bestseller How to Be a Baby. Sue lives in Oxfordshire, England.

Two bears interrupt their hibernation to celebrate a very special Valentine's Day. Now part of the Holiday Classics series.

The Valentine Bears Gift Edition

Eve Bunting and Jan Brett

Mr. and Mrs. Bear have never celebrated Valentine's Day—they've always slept right through it! This year will be different, as Mrs. Bear plans to wake up early, in the middle of wintry February, to share this special day with Mr. Bear. She makes a Valentine's Day sign, writes romantic poems, unearths a gift of a pot of summer honey she buried in the fall for safekeeping, and freshens up in the icy pond. Finally she's ready to wake Mr. Bear. However, he's not ready to get up! All her preparations won't go to waste, though, because Mr. Bear has his own surprise. Bunting and Brett have crafted a charming story that will capture readers' hearts.

Eve Bunting has written more than a hundred books, including the Caldecott Medal winner Smoky Night, illustrated by David Diaz. She lives in California.

With more than thirty million books in print, Jan Brett is one of the top author/illustrators for children. Jan splits her time between a seacoast town and the Berkshire Hills, both in Massachusetts.

An enchanting picture book debut about rabbits, magic, and show business.

Rabbit Magic

Written and illustrated by Meg McLaren

A distinctive palette and a large cast of adorable rabbits adorn a lively story told in very few words. When a magic trick goes awry, the magician M. Lapin becomes a sad rabbit while his rabbit assistant, Houdini, becomes the star of the show. After trying increasingly spectacular tricks, Houdini realizes that someone else wants and deserves the spotlight, and in his most amazing trick ever, he restores M. Lapin to his former self. Generosity and teamwork—and of course magic—take center stage in this delightful debut.

The debut author/artist Meg McLaren has a BA degree in theater design and production and a master's degree in children's book illustration from the Cambridge School of Art in the UK. She lives in Inverness, Scotland, with her partner, Jon, and their impressive Lego collection. Visit her website at www.megmclaren.com.

A witty celebration of diversity and tolerance starring two best friends and conveyed in uncluttered, expressive illustrations and charmingly succinct text.

Muddle & Mo

Nikki Slade Robinson

Muddle (a duck) and Mo (a goat) are best friends, but Muddle is a bit confused about what type of animals they both are. Fortunately, during the course of their walk together, long-suffering Mo helps Muddle get his duck identity sorted out in this spare, yet charming tale of friendship, differences, and acceptance.

Nikki Slade Robinson has illustrated more than sixty children's books, several of which she also wrote. Muddle & Mo was inspired by the antics of a duckling and a kid goat that she and her family raised at their home in New Zealand. This is her first book published in the United States.

From an award-winning children's poet, the story of what happened to Miss Muffet and her spider friend after the tuffet episode.

Miss Muffet, or What Came After

Marilyn Singer, illustrated by David Litchfield

People will tell you that all little Miss Muffet wanted was to sit quietly and eat her curds and whey. They'll insist that she was so scared of a spider, she ran away from it, and that's where her story ends. Well, those people are wrong! Miss Muffet is more daring than that—and so is the spider. Together, they head off on an escapade involving a host of other nursery rhyme characters to help a famous old monarch who's lost his fiddlers three.

Told in clever verse arranged like a musical theater production, this hilarious picture book reveals the true story of the adventures of Miss Muffet and her spider friend.

Marilyn Singer, a recipient of the NCTE Award for Children's Poetry, is the author of more than one hundred books. She lives in New York and Connecticut. Visit her website at www.marilynsinger.net.

The 75th anniversary edition of the title that started it all!
Curious George meets the man with the yellow hat and the adventures begin!

Curious George

75th Anniversary Edition

Margret and H. A. Rey

This treasured classic is where it all began, seventy-five years ago, for the curious, lovable monkey, Curious George. In this anniversary edition of the original book, George meets the man in the yellow hat in the jungle and goes to live in a new home, but—oh, what happened! Though trying to be good, George is still very curious and takes a swim in the ocean, escapes from jail, and goes for a flying ride on a bunch of balloons. Special anniversary cover with foil and spot gloss make this edition a must-have for any children's book collection. Includes bonus downloadable audio read by the actor, producer, and director John Krasinski.

Hans Augusto Rey was born in Hamburg, Germany, in 1898. After serving in the army during World War I, he studied philology and natural science at the University of Hamburg. He then married Margret Rey and they moved to Montmartre. Escaping Paris during World War II, they made their way to the United States, and Curious George was published in 1941.

George and Marco are curious about the celebrations going on in Chinatown. Luckily, their new friend Lily tells them all about Chinese New Year, and even asks for their help practicing the dragon dance for the big parade. But getting around in the dragon costume is hard work, and before they know it, their costume is in need of repair! Will they be able to fix it in time for the parade? This 24-page picture book, based on the Emmy Award-winning Curious George PBS TV show, includes bonus information about Chinese New Year traditions and fun crafts to celebrate with. For more monkey fun, investigate www.curiousgeorge.com and discover all the latest on Curious George books, promotions, games, activities, and more!

George is curious—and more than a little nervous—about his first sleepover in this classic 8x8 picture book.

Curious George and the Sleepover

H. A. Rey

When George is invited to his first sleepover, he is ready to go! It will be a wonderful time filled with fun, games, and special food, shared with his good friends. George packs everything he needs, but what he isn't prepared for is how worried he feels. And when little monkeys get nervous, they can sometimes get into trouble . . . Can his friends help George overcome his unexpected bout of homesickness to save the sleepover?

With art in the classic style of H. A. Rey and engaging text on a relatable childhood theme, this is the perfect read for bedtime or anytime! Includes activities.

The Young Readers Edition of Louise Borden's dramatic account of the World War II escape of Margret and H. A. Rey.

The Journey That Saved Curious George Young Readers Edition

The True Wartime Escape of Margret and H. A. Rey

Louise Borden, illustrated by Allan Drummond

In 1940, Hans and Margret Rey fled their Paris home as the German army advanced. They made their journey on bicycles with the manuscript that would become Curious George, among their few possessions. Louise Borden collected archival materials to introduce readers to the world of Hans and Margret Rey, and Allan Drummond's dramatic and colorful artwork illustrates their wartime trek to a new home. Part travel journal, part gripping biography, this volume includes an interview with the author, a "Become a Detective" section where readers can learn to be a detective of history, and timeline and map-making activities. Perfect for history students and Curious George fans.

The author Louise Borden writes many of her highly regarded children's books about historical moments that she finds inspiring. She lives with her husband, Pete, in Terrace Park, Ohio. Visit her website at www.louiseborden.com.

The illustrator Allan Drummond studied illustration at the Royal College of Art in London and has lived and worked in France and the USA. Visit his website at www.allandrummond.com.

Mr. Putter & Tabby Hit the Slope

Cynthia Rylant, illustrated by Arthur Howard

Mr. Putter and his fine cat, Tabby, like winter. But when the snow is deep outside and there's nothing to do inside, even a cozy winter day can be a little slow. Not for long! When Mrs. Teaberry and her good dog, Zeke, pull two sleds out of the garage, the four friends head for the sledding slope for the wildest ride ever. Maybe winter is not so slow after all!

Cynthia Rylant is a Newbery medalist and author of many acclaimed books for children, including the classic early reader series Mr. Putter & Tabby and Henry & Mudge. She lives in the Pacific Northwest. Visit her website at www.cynthiarylant.com.

The Case of the Secret Tunnel

Holly Webb, illustrated by Marion Lindsay

Mr. Fred Grange claims to work as a clerk for a biscuit company, but he's out and about on the London streets at odd hours, and girl detective Maisie Hitchins soon discovers something very precious hidden in his rooms. Maisie is determined to unmask him as a thief, but the truth is far more complicated--and dangerous. Before long, Maisie is led into a web of mystery lurking in the London Underground. Like the other books in the series, The Case of the Secret Tunnel features black and white illustrations throughout.

Hercufleas

Sam Gayton

"A resonant story about family, friendship and loss, and the power of hope and unity. Gayton reminds us that small things are sometimes the most important."—Sunday Times [UK]

To protect her village from a giant, Greta recruits a champion: Hercufleas! He may be tiny, but this young flea is certain he's destined for greatness. Being a hero is harder than it seems, though, and Hercufleas and Greta face unexpected choices—and consequences—in their desperate attempts to save the village, and each other.

Big heroes come in small packages in a superbly imagined tale that is part comedic adventure, part poignant coming-of-age epic, and wholly original.

Agatha Parrot and the Heart of Mud

Kjartan Poskitt, illustrated in black and white by Wes Hargis

First, Martha's mom bans her from playing soccer, and Agatha and friends must get Martha back on the field. Then Agatha's brother, James, receives an email from a mysterious girl, Bella, and Agatha secretly responds for him. It's just one of those things that sisters have to do!

Agatha discovers Bella's love of spelling might hold the secret for getting Martha permission to play soccer again. Several forged emails—and a few spelling tests—later, will Martha play in the big game? And what will happen when the innocent Bella meets the real James?

The irresistible adventures of Agatha Parrot continue in this funny and unpredictable installment.

A middle grade debut about dreams, dilemmas, and drums that will resonate with readers trying to keep their ambitions alive during tough times.

I Am Drums

Mike Grosso

“This book is the song of my middle-school heart.”—Michelle Schusterman, author of the I Heart Band! series

Sam knows she wants to be a drummer. But she doesn't know how to afford a drum kit, or why budget cuts end her school's music program, or why her parents argue so much, or even how to explain her dream to other people.

But drums sound all the time in Sam's head, and she'd do just about anything to play them out loud—even lie to her family if she has to. Will the cost of chasing her dream be too high?

An exciting new voice in contemporary middle grade, Mike Grosso creates a determined heroine readers will identify with and cheer for.

Mike Grosso is a musician and a schoolteacher who keeps a guitar in his classroom. He lives with his wife and son in Oak Park, Illinois. This is his first novel. Visit his website at www.mikegrossoauthor.com.

Madeline Little is Harriet the Spy with a lab notebook in this debut middle grade novel full of heart, humor, and a dash of science.

The Friendship Experiment

Erin Teagan

Future scientist Madeline Little is dreading the start of sixth grade. Nothing has been right since her grandfather died and her best friend changed schools. Maddie would rather help her father in his research lab or write standard operating procedures in her lab notebook than hang out with a bunch of kids who aren't even her friends. Despite Maddie's reluctance, some new friends start coming her way—until they discover what she's written in her secret notebook. And that's just part of the trouble. Can this future scientific genius find the formula for straightening out her life?

Erin Teagan is a former research scientist who now writes for young readers full-time. The Friendship Experiment is her first novel. She lives with her family in Virginia. Visit her website at www.erinteagan.com.

An African American girl in 1955 Mississippi witnesses grave injustice and moments of hope in a middle grade debut perfect for fans of Brown Girl Dreaming.

Midnight Without a Moon

Linda Williams Jackson

It's Mississippi in the summer of 1955, and thirteen-year-old Rose Lee Carter can't wait to move north. But for now, she's living with her sharecropper grandparents on a white man's cotton plantation.

Then, one town over, a fourteen-year-old African American boy, Emmett Till, is killed for allegedly whistling at a white woman. When Till's murderers are unjustly acquitted, Rose realizes that the South needs a change . . . and that she should be part of the movement.

Linda Jackson's moving debut seamlessly blends a fictional portrait of an African American family and factual events from a famous trial that provoked change in race relations in the United States.

Linda Jackson was born in a small town in Mississippi and likes to write about unassuming, everyday characters in small-town settings. She still lives in Mississippi with her husband and children.

An uproarious stand-alone school story about sixth-grader Jimmy Murphy and his nemesis, Sister Angelica Rose, from a two-time Newbery Honor winner.

Revenge of the Green Banana

Jim Murphy

Jimmy Murphy's sixth grade teacher, Sister Angelica Rose, is out to get him. She humiliates him in class and punishes him when he hasn't done anything wrong. She even forces him to perform onstage with second-graders, wearing a giant green banana costume. A classic underachiever with a talent for trouble, Jimmy wants revenge, and with his friends he plans a prank that will embarrass Sister Angelica in front of the whole school. What could possibly go wrong? Jimmy's snarky, relatable narrative will reassure readers that even for a screw-up, it's never too late to change.

Jim Murphy's nonfiction books have won numerous awards, including the Sibert Medal, Margaret A. Edwards Award, and two Newbery Honors. His book An American Plague was a National Book Award finalist. Jim lives with his family in Maplewood, New Jersey. Any similarity between him and protagonist Jimmy Murphy is intentional. Dickens meets Ransom Riggs in this chillingly suspenseful middle grade Victorian Gothic novel from the author of Hoodoo.

The Mesmerist

Ronald Smith

Thirteen-year-old Jessamine Grace and her mother make a living as sham spiritualists—until they discover that Jess is a mesmerist and that she really can talk to the dead. Soon she is plunged into the dark world of Victorian London's supernatural underbelly and learns that the city is under attack by ghouls, monsters, and spirit summoners. Can Jess fight these powerful forces? And will the group of strange children with mysterious powers she befriends be able to help? As shy, proper Jess transforms into a brave warrior, she uncovers terrifying truths about the hidden battle between good and evil, about her family, and about herself.

A middle grade debut told in the unforgettable voice of Derby Christmas Clark, whose Virginia town harbors secrets within its battered baseball stadium.

A Rambler Steals Home

Carter Higgins

Eleven-year-old Derby Christmas Clark is a rambler of the road. She travels year-round in an RV with her father and younger brother, selling Christmas trees during the cold months and burgers and fries during baseball season. Derby always did prefer grease splatters to hauling trees, so she's excited that summer will take her back to the small town of Ridge Creek, the Rockskippers, her best friend, and her surrogate mom, June. But this summer, a tragedy has changed Ridge Creek—and as Derby tries to help those she loves, long-held secrets are revealed. This warm-hearted southern debut is perfect for fans of Kate DiCamillo and Sheila Turnage.

Carter Higgins is an elementary school librarian, book blogger, and former graphic designer. A Rambler Steals Home is her debut novel. A native of Virginia, she now lives in Burbank, California. Visit her website at www.carterhiggins.com.

The beloved author of Charlotte's Web and Stuart Little springs to vivid life in Melissa Sweet's well-spun, gorgeously illustrated biography of E. B. White.

Some Writer!

The Story of E. B. White
Melissa Sweet

“SOME PIG,” Charlotte the spider’s praise for Wilbur, is just one fondly remembered snippet from E. B. White’s Charlotte’s Web. In Some Writer!, the two-time Caldecott Honor winner Melissa Sweet mixes White’s personal letters, photos, and family ephemera with her own exquisite artwork to tell his story, from his birth in 1899 to his death in 1985. Budding young writers will be fascinated and inspired by the journalist, New Yorker contributor, and children’s book author who loved words his whole life. This authorized tribute is the first fully illustrated biography of E. B. White and includes an afterword by Martha White, E. B. White’s granddaughter.

Melissa Sweet celebrates the natural world, E. B. White–style, with her winsome mixed-media artwork. She received a Sibert Medal for Balloons Over Broadway and Caldecott Honors for both The Right Word and A River of Words by Jen Bryant. She lives on the Maine coast. Travel with the New Horizons spacecraft on the first-ever mission to Pluto in the latest addition to the Scientists in the Field series.

Mission to Pluto

The First Visit to an Ice Dwarf and the Kuiper Belt
written by Mary Kay Carson, photographs by Tom Uhlman

In July of 2015 a robotic spacecraft reached Pluto after a nine-and-half-year journey. New Horizons is the first spacecraft mission to Pluto and revealed the ice dwarf and its five moons as never before seen. Images from the mission show a reddish surface covered in ice-water mountains, moving glaciers, and hints of possible ice volcanoes and an underground ocean. Pluto is geologically alive and changing!

This addition to the Scientists in the Field series goes where no person or spacecraft has ever gone before. Follow along with the team of scientists as they build New Horizons, fly it across the solar system, and make new discoveries about a world three billion miles away.

Mary Kay Carson is the author of many books for kids about space, nature, and other science topics. She lives in Cincinnati, Ohio. Visit her website at www.marykaycarson.com.

Tom Uhlman is a freelance photographer who photographs lots of events, but enjoys shooting pictures of wildlife and the natural world most of all. Visit his website at www.tomuhlmanphoto.com.

A biography for young adults on the remarkable life of Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing.

Florence Nightingale
The Courageous Life of the Legendary Nurse
Catherine Reef

Most people know Florence Nightingale was a legendary nurse, but they don't know her full story. This riveting biography explores the exceptional life of a woman who defied the conventions of Victorian society to pursue what was considered an undesirable vocation. She is best known for her work during the Crimean War, when she vastly improved gruesome and deadly conditions and made nightly rounds to visit patients, becoming known around the world as the Lady with the Lamp. Her tireless and inspiring work continued after the war, and her modern methods in nursing became the defining standards still used today. Includes notes, bibliography, and index.

Catherine Reef is the award-winning author of more than forty nonfiction books, including many highly praised biographies for young people. She lives in College Park, MD. Visit her website at www.catherinereef.com.

Humans aren't the only creatures who solve problems, make important decisions, share with their friends, or develop complex languages!

Beastly Brains

Exploring How Animals Think, Talk, and Feel

Nancy Castaldo

In Beastly Brains, Castaldo delves into the minds of animals and explores animal empathy, communication, tool use, and social societies through interviews and historical anecdotes. Researchers from Charles Darwin to Jane Goodall have spent years analyzing the minds of animals, and today's science is revolutionizing old theories and uncovering surprising similarities to our own minds. Humans are not alone in our ability to think about ourselves, make plans, help each other, or even participate in deception. You'll think differently about the animals on this planet—maybe it's their world and we're just living in it!

Nancy Castaldo is the award winning author of many nonfiction titles and the regional advisor for SCBWI- Eastern NY. She is also a photographer and environmental educator. Castaldo lives in New York State's Hudson Valley with her family, including a fluffy cat and a newly rescued Bichon named Boo Radley.

An updated edition of Lois Lowry's inspiring and moving autobiography.

Looking Back
A Book of Memories
by Lois Lowry

In this fascinating, moving autobiography, Lois Lowry explores her rich history through personal photographs, memories, and recollections of her childhood. Lowry's writing often transports readers into other worlds. Now, we have the rare opportunity to travel into a real world that is her own—her life.

This new edition features a refreshed design, an introduction by New York Times best-selling author Alice Hoffman, and original material from Lois as she shares memories from the past twenty years of her life, including the making of the film, The Giver. Readers will find inspiration and insight in this poignant trip through a legendary writer's past.

Lois Lowry is one of the most decorated authors for young readers. Her books have won numerous awards, including the Newbery Medal for both Number the Stars and The Giver. Ms. Lowry now divides her time between Cambridge and an 1840s farmhouse in Maine. To learn more about Lois Lowry, visit her website at www.loislowry.com.

From the author of Gym Candy and Heart of a Champion comes a new tale of football, friends, and finding courage.

Gutless
by Carl Deuker

With good speed and good hands, wide receiver Brock Ripley should be a natural for the varsity team, but he shies away from physical contact. He also avoids provoking the star quarterback, Hunter Gates, well known for his bullying tactics. Hunter struggles on the field, causing him to act even more like the bully he is, lashing out at not only Brock but also Brock's friend, the quiet and smart Richie Fang. Brock wants to stand up for Fang, but he is younger, smaller, and doesn't want to cause problems. But when the bullying goes too far, will Brock be able to face his fears and prove to himself that he is brave enough?

Carl Deuker is a premier author of psychological sports fiction for young adults, including the novels Heart of a Champion, Gym Candy, Payback Time, and Runner. He lives in Seattle, Washington. Visit his website at members.authorsguild.net/carldeuker/bio.htm.

A thrilling and gripping survival story based on real-life events of the author, who was on a hijacked plane as a school girl.

Girl on a Plane

Miriam Moss

Bahrain, 1970.

After a summer spent with her family, fifteen-year-old Anna is flying back to boarding school in England when her plane is hijacked by Palestinian terrorists and taken to the Jordanian desert.

Demands are issued. If they are not met, the terrorists will blow up the plane, killing all hostages. The heat becomes unbearable; food and water supplies dwindle. All alone, Anna begins to face the possibility that she may never see her family again.

Inspired by true events in the author's life, this is a story about ordinary people facing agonizing horror with courage and resilience. Includes Q&A with the author.

Miriam Moss was born in England but grew up in Africa, China, and the Middle East and now lives in East Sussex with her family. In 1970, when she was on her way back to boarding school in the United Kingdom, her plane was hijacked by Palestinian terrorists. Girl on a Plane is her story. Visit her website at miriammoss.com.

The final installment in the Undertow trilogy. Battles are fought. Lives are lost. And Lyric will choose between her love for Fathom and life on the surface.

Heart of the Storm

Undertow Trilogy Book 3

Michael Buckley

After seven months as a captive of Minerva, the insane Alpha queen, Lyric Walker has escaped to the surface. Her only goal is to warn the world about the Great Abyss. When she finally arrives back in Coney Island, she discovers a world she never expected, one where humans and Alpha are finally working hand in hand to rebuild the country. But she soon learns that an old enemy allied with an old friend may kill them all before the monsters get their turn.

Where will Lyric's loyalties, and her heart, lead her? With nail-biting action and romance, Michael Buckley's epic trilogy draws to a stunning conclusion.

Michael Buckley's two middle grade series, the Sisters Grimm and NERDS, have sold more than 2.5 million copies. He has also worked as a stand-up comic, television writer, pasta maker, and a singer in a punk rock band. He lives in Brooklyn, New York, with his wife, Alison, and their son, Finn. In this fresh and funny YA novel, a teenage falconer in training gets in trouble when he finds himself falling for a girl who is part of a radical animal rights group.

Flip the Bird

Kym Brunner

“An exciting adventure into the art of falconry and the heart of a young man.”
—David Lubar, author of Hidden Talents and Character, Driven

Mercer Buddie wants two things: a girlfriend and the chance to prove himself to his master falconer father. With hunting season approaching, fourteen-year-old Mercer has only a short time to train his red-tailed hawk, Flip.

Then Mercer meets Lucy, and thinks his love life is about to take flight—until he discovers that she belongs to a fanatical animal rights organization called HALT. If Mercer wants to keep seeing Lucy, he’ll need to keep his love of falconry and his family’s raptor rehabilitation center a secret from her, and Lucy’s involvement with HALT from his family. Is love worth all the lies—and maybe even the loss of his bird?

Kym Brunner is the author of the YA novels Wanted: Dead or In Love and One Smart Cookie. She teaches seventh grade reading and language arts in a suburb of Chicago. Visit her website at www.kymbrunner.com.

Ever the Hunted

A Clash of Kingdoms Novel
Erin Summerill

Seventeen year-old Britta Flannery is at ease only in the woods with her dagger and bow. She spends her days tracking criminals alongside her father, a legendary bounty hunter—that is, until her father is murdered. The alleged killer is none other than Cohen McKay, her father's former apprentice. The only friend she's ever known. The boy she once loved who broke her heart.

She must go on a treacherous quest in a world of warring kingdoms, mad kings, and dark magic to find the real killer. But Britta wields more power than she knows. And soon she will learn what has always made her different will make her a daunting and dangerous force.

With a B.A. in English, Erin Summerill had aspirations to write the next great American novel. But writing proved tougher than she first thought, so she grabbed a Nikon and became a professional wedding photographer. When she isn't writing, she's chasing her four kids, two dogs, one cat, and five chickens. Erin and her family live in Utah.

A funny, affecting, inspiring tale about hope and self-acceptance, this YA debut combines an appealing romance with a wry, insightful view of mental illness.

Under Rose-Tainted Skies

Louise Gornall

Norah has agoraphobia and OCD. When groceries are left on the porch, she can't step out to get them. Struggling to snag the bags with a stick, she meets Luke. He's sweet and funny, and he just caught her fishing for groceries. Because of course he did.

Norah can't leave the house, but can she let someone in? As their friendship grows deeper, Norah realizes Luke deserves a normal girl. One who can lie on the front lawn and look up at the stars. One who isn't so screwed up.

Readers themselves will fall in love with Norah in this poignant, humorous, and deeply engaging portrait of a teen struggling to find the strength to face her demons.

A junk food enthusiast, film nerd, and rumored pink Power Ranger, Louise Gornall writes about her own experiences to help encourage and facilitate conversations with other people also facing challenges with mental illness. She lives in England. Visit her website at www.bookishblurb.com, and follow her on Twitter at @Rock_andor_Roll.

In a YA fantasy rich in intrigue, adventure, danger, and romance, a mixed-race teen heroine faces tough choices about her identity.

Flicker and Mist

Mary G. Thompson

Romance, suspense, and plenty of action are woven into a rich and suspenseful narrative in this powerful YA fantasy. The mixed-race heroine Myra is a Flickerkin and can flicker (become invisible) at will. She hasn't cultivated or revealed this ability, since Flickerkin are persecuted as potential criminals and spies. When invisible people become tricksters and then murderers, Myra's Flickerkin heritage becomes a deadly secret, putting her relationship with the leader's son—and her own life—in jeopardy. Loyalties shift and difficult choices are made before Myra understands who she wants to be. Mary G. Thompson's first fantasy for YA readers offers a wild ride through a unique and complex world.

Mary G. Thompson was born and raised in Cottage Grove and Eugene, Oregon. She was a practicing attorney for more than seven years, including almost five years in the U.S. Navy. She is currently a librarian in Washington, D.C. Visit her website at www.marygthompson.com.

A teenage girl grapples with her sister's death and her own place in the universe in a YA debut that's perfect for fans of Jandy Nelson.

Lost Stars

Lisa Selin Davis

Before her older sister, Ginny, died, Carrie was a science nerd, obsessively tracking her beloved Vira comet. But now that Ginny is gone, sixteen-year-old Carrie finds herself within the orbit of Ginny's friends, a close-knit group of seniors who skip school, obsess over bands (not science), and party hard.

Fed up with Carrie's behavior, her father enrolls her in a summer work camp at a local state park. Carrie actually likes the days spent in nature. And when she meets Dean, a guy who likes the real Carrie—astrophysics obsessions and all—she starts to get to the heart of who she is and who she wants to be.

Lisa Selin Davis, a freelance writer and personal essayist, has written for the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, Salon, Time, Parenting, Paper, New York Magazine, and many other publications, and currently edits a website for NewsCorp. Lisa lives in Brooklyn with her family.

A gritty yet hopeful story of family, responsibility, and the courage to follow one's dreams.

Speed of Life

J. M. Kelly

Twins Crystal and Amber have the same goal: to be the first in their family to graduate high school and make something of their lives. When one gets pregnant during their junior year, they promise to raise the baby together. It's not easy, but between their after-school jobs, they're scraping by.

Crystal's grades catch the attention of the new guidance counselor, who tells her about a college that offers a degree in automotive restoration, perfect for the car buff she is. When she secretly applies—and gets in—new opportunities threaten their once-certain plans, and Crystal must make a choice: follow her dreams or stay behind and honor the promise she made to her sister.

J. M. Kelly was born and raised in Portland, Oregon, and now lives in British Columbia, Canada. When she's not working on her novels, she writes nonfiction articles, plays, and sketch comedy, and teaches writing to both kids and adults.

Factory work in southern China is tough—but Roshen is tougher.

Factory Girl

Josanne LaValley

In order to save her family's farm, Roshen, sixteen, must leave her rural home to work in a factory in the south of China. There she finds arduous and degrading conditions and contempt for her minority (Uyghur) background. Sustained by her bond with other Uyghur girls, Roshen is resolved to endure all to help her family and ultimately her people. A workplace survival story, this gritty, poignant account focuses on a courageous teen and illuminates the value—and cost—of freedom.

Josanne LaValley traveled across the Taklamakan Desert to the Hotan region of China, where she spent time among the Uyghur. An instant classic and perfect before-bedtime choice, now available in paperback.

The Quiet Book

Deborah Underwood, illustrated by Renata Liwska

* “A delightful and enchanting choice for storytime or sharing one-on-one.” —School Library Journal, starred review

Quiet can be delicate.

Quiet can be thundering!

Quiet can be sweet, and cozy, and can most definitely help you fall asleep.

This irresistibly charming bedtime classic explores all the different quiet that can fill a child's days from morning until night. Sweet, beautifully rendered bears, rabbits, fish, birds, and iguanas propel the story far beyond words.

Deborah Underwood has written many books for children. She lives in San Francisco and loves “cat sleeping on your stomach quiet” and “smelling lilacs quiet.” Visit her website at www.DeborahUnderwoodBooks.com.

Renata Liwska's favorite kind of quiet is “drawing a picture book quiet.” She lives in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Join Rover and his friends as they squish together in this doghouse in this fun-to-read story. Now in paperback.

Move Over, Rover!

Karen Beaumont, illustrated by Jane Dyer

It's raining cats and dogs! Good thing Rover is snuggled safe and dry inside his doghouse—until, one by one, a soggy menagerie of creatures show up looking for a cozy place to sit out the storm. But who's the very unwelcome surprise visitor? Skunk, of course. Suddenly that doghouse isn't quite so crowded after all!

Karen Beaumont is known for her lively books, including I Ain't Gonna Paint No More! and No Sleep for the Sheep! She lives in Northern California. Visit her website at www.karenbeaumont.com.

The story of a female African American chef whose success is rooted in her childhood years on a family farm, planting, harvesting, and celebrating natural foods.

Bring Me Some Apples and I'll Make You a Pie

A Story About Edna Lewis

Written and illustrated by Robbin Gourley

"A mouthwatering morsel that should come with the warning to eat before reading!"
—Kirkus Reviews

Long before the natural-food movement gained popularity, Edna Lewis championed purity of ingredients, regional cuisine, and farm-to-table eating. She was a chef when female chefs—let alone African American female chefs—were few and far between. With lyrical text and watercolor illustrations, Robbin Gourley traces the roots of Edna's appreciation for the bounties of nature through the seasons. Folk rhymes, and songs about food are sprinkled throughout the text, and five kid-friendly recipes and an author's note about Edna's life are included.

Robbin Gourley is an artist and art director, as well as an author and illustrator of cookbooks and picture books. Her picture books include First Garden and Forest Has a Song. She lives in rural Pennsylvania and Brooklyn, New York. Visit her website at www.robbingourley.com.

A hilarious companion to the riotous Those Darn Squirrels.

Those Darn Squirrels and the Cat Next Door

Adam Rubin, illustrated by Daniel Salmieri

*“Child-friendly urbanity at its best.” —Publishers Weekly, starred review

All is calm in old man Fookwire’s yard until new neighbors—Little Old Lady Hu and her cat, Muffins—move in next door. Muffins is one mean dude! He terrorizes the birds, interrupts Fookwire’s painting, and ties the squirrels’ tails together. Fookwire is upset, but not nearly as upset as the squirrels, who devise an ingenious plan to stop Muffins cold. The tongue-in-cheek text is perfectly complemented by the quirky, inventive illustrations.

Adam Rubin lives in New York City. Since the publication of Those Darn Squirrels! he has become a major celebrity in the squirrel community. Visit his website at www.adamrubinhasawebsite.com.

When Wodney must face off against that big bully Camilla Capybara for a second time, a talking robot becomes his secret weapon.

Wodney Wat's Wobot
Helen Lester, illustrated by Lynn Munsinger

* "Hooway is wight . . . er, right. Wodney Wat is wonderful." —School Library Journal, starred review

The meek wodent—er, rodent—hero with a speech impediment and a heart of gold is back! So is Camilla Capybara—the BIG bully who makes poor Wodney and his classmates tremble. But this time, Wodney has a secret weapon: a robot that helps him pronounce his r's and seems to be just the thing to scare Camilla away for good.

Now in paperback, this empowering sequel to Hooway for Wodney Wat reminds us that the little guy can finish first, and it's often brains—not brawn—that save the day.

A rollicking read-aloud from an extraordinary storytelling team!

Epossumondas

Coleen Salley, illustrated by Janet Stevens

“A giggle-and-guffaw-inducing picture book.”—Booklist

Who’s Epossumondas? Why, he’s his mama’s and his auntie’s sweet little patootie, that’s who. He’s also the silliest, most lovable, most muddleheaded possum south of the Mason-Dixon line!

The renowned storyteller Coleen Salley and the Caldecott Honor–winning illustrator Janet Stevens team up for this outrageous twist on the Southern story of the noodlehead who takes everything way too literally.

Coleen Salley was a professor and storyteller. The tale of Epaminondas was her trademark story, and Epossumondas is her book rendition. She lived in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Janet Stevens is the author-illustrator of many books, including the Caldecott Honor book Tops & Bottoms. She lives in Boulder, Colorado. Visit her website at www.janetstevens.com.

A remarkable photo exploration of unlikely animal friendships.

Friends

True Stories of Extraordinary Animal Friendships

Catherine Thimmesh

What makes a camel friends with a Vietnamese pig? Or a wild polar bear with a sled dog? In this stunning photo-filled book, Catherine Thimmesh makes us wonder at the truth and mystery of unlikely animal friendships. Because the stories behind these friendships are true, not contrived, they not only give readers insight into animals, but challenge preconceived notions about compatibility. This book also expresses tolerance of differences and makes us look at the kindness of animals—and humans—a little differently.

Catherine Thimmesh is the award-winning author of many books for children, including Team Moon, winner of the Sibert Medal. Her books have received numerous starred reviews, appeared on best books lists, and won many awards. She lives in Minnesota with her family. Visit her website at www.catherinethimmesh.com.

Did you know that the jazz singer Billie Holiday was crazy about dogs?

Mister and Lady Day

Billie Holiday and the Dog Who Loved Her

Amy Novesky, illustrated by Vanessa Brantley Newton

“This introduction to the jazz great has tons of kid appeal.” —School Library Journal

Billie Holiday—also known as Lady Day—had fame, style, a stellar voice, gardenias in her hair, and lots of dogs. She had a coat-pocket poodle, a beagle, Chihuahuas, a Great Dane, and more, but her favorite was a boxer named Mister. Mister was always there to bolster her courage, even at her legendary appearance at New York’s Carnegie Hall. Stylish illustrations keep the story focused on the bond between Holiday and her dog. An author’s note addresses the singer’s troubled life, and includes a little-known photo of Mister and Lady Day!

Amy Novesky’s lyrical writing makes true stories about singers and artists come to life. She lives in Sausalito, California. Visit her website at www.amynovesky.com.

Green Light Readers Level 1 adds a Spanish-language edition of our fun and family-friendly Joe the Frog series. Ideal for shared reading experiences!

Joe quiere jugar
Peggy Perry Anderson

It's the Frog family reunion, and all of Joe's relatives are together. Everyone's having fun except Joe. With so many cousins, aunts, uncles, and grandparents around, you'd think somebody would play with Joe, but everyone says he's too big, too small, too fast, or too slow. No matter where Joe turns, all he hears is “no” . . . until a very special guest arrives!

This Spanish language edition is perfect for beginning readers and their families to enjoy together. Bright illustrations feature Joe's mishaps with all kinds of things that go, go, go!

Mr. Putter & Tabby Smell the Roses

Cynthia Rylant, illustrated by Arthur Howard

“Since the Mr. Putter & Tabby series began, its signature combination of storytelling, wit, and humanity have made it a staple of the beginning reader section.” —Booklist

Mr. Putter wants Mrs. Teaberry’s birthday to be extra special this year. So how about a trip to the Conservatory to see the beautiful trees and plants and flowers? It will be heavenly. And it is! Mr. Putter and Tabby and Mrs. Teaberry and Zeke sniff the air. They smell the roses. They learn the plant facts. It’s the perfect celebration . . . until Zeke finds the banana tree. This latest volume in the beloved series is as funny and endearing as ever.

Gooney Bird makes a promise she hopes she can keep, so she can star in the Thanksgiving pageant!

Gooney Bird and the Room Mother

Lois Lowry, illustrated by Middy Thomas

* “Larger than life and with a heart as big as her personality, Gooney Bird Greene will elicit gales of laughter from Junie B. Jones fans.” —Kirkus Reviews, starred review

Mrs. Pidgeon’s class is preparing for their Thanksgiving pageant, and the lead role of Squanto is up for grabs. So is the role of Room Mother. Gooney Bird promises to find one if she can be the lead. There’s just one catch: the person she convinces to be Room Mother insists on being anonymous. As the class struggles to decorate the mural, make costumes, and learn their songs for the pageant, the suspense builds: Will it be a success? And who is their mysterious Room Mother?

Keeper, a stray dog, tells his tale.

Stay!
Keeper's Story
Lois Lowry

“Throughout this saga of the narrator’s ‘dog days,’ the author proves she is as well versed in animal behavior as in human sensibilities.” —Publishers Weekly

Keeper is born between a fence and a set of trash cans. Separated from his mother and siblings at a young age, he has to grow up fast. Even so, he faces every challenge with his nose turned up and his tail held high. He becomes the loyal companion to a homeless man, discovers an ear for poetry, and meets his match in his brutal rival, Scar. The story of this proud survivor will delight dog-lovers and adventure-lovers alike.

The final installment in the 43 Old Cemetery Road series is a pun-filled adventure told in a lively compilation of illustrations, letters, articles, and drawings.

The Loch Ness Punster

Kate Klise and M. Sarah Klise

“A heavily illustrated, comedic/ghostly mystery revealed in a series of letters and documents by a quirky cast whose pun-filled names are truly groanworthy.” —Booklist

In the seventh and final book in the popular 43 Old Cemetery Road series, twelve-year-old Seymour Hope has inherited a castle in Loch Ness, Scotland. It could be the perfect summer vacation spot for Seymour and his parents, Olive C. Spence and Ignatius B. Grumply. But Iggy wants nothing to do with the castle, since it was owned by his uncle Ian, a world-famous psychiatrist and the world’s worst punster. So Iggy stays home, and Seymour and Olive set off for Scotland—each with a secret.

Four favorite tales from Edward Eager's classic Tales of Magic series are collected in this boxed set.

Tales of Magic Boxed Set

Edward Eager, illustrations by N. M. Bodecker

"These are wonderful books, all filled with the power of the imagination and the possibility that anything can happen at any time, to anyone. Eager's style is funny, wise, and entertaining." —Alice Hoffman, author of Aquamarine and Practical Magic

For over sixty years, Edward Eager's Tales of Magic have been favorites with readers of all ages. Now his four most popular stories—Half Magic, Knight's Castle, Magic by the Lake, and The Time Garden—are available in one handsome package. Perfect for gift-giving or for introducing eager new readers to a whole world of wit and magic, this collection will brighten every child's library!

Edward Eager (1911–1964) worked primarily as a playwright and lyricist. It wasn't until 1951, while searching for books to read to his young son, Fritz, that he began writing children's stories. His classic Tales of Magic series started with the best-selling Half Magic, published in 1954.

From a grand master of the ghost story, a spooky tale of a family newly arrived in the mountain wilds of West Virginia, and the local witch who has them in her clutches.

Took
A Ghost Story
Mary Downing Hahn

“This creepy tale skillfully weaves in—and honors—the oral tradition of folklore, legends, and ghost stories.” —Horn Book

Thirteen-year-old Daniel Anderson doesn't believe Brody Mason's crazy stories about the ghost witch who lives up on Brewster's Hill and takes little girls. He figures Brody's probably just trying to scare him since he's the new kid . . . a “stuck-up snot” from Connecticut. But Daniel's seven-year-old sister, Erica, has become more and more withdrawn, talking to her lookalike doll. When she disappears into the woods one day, he knows something is terribly wrong. Did the witch strike? Has Erica been “took”?

Mary Downing Hahn, a former children's librarian, is the award-winning author of many popular ghost stories, including Deep and Dark and Dangerous, The Old Willis Place, and Wait Till Helen Comes, recently adapted for film. The final book in the Anastasia series!

Anastasia, Absolutely

Lois Lowry

Irrepressible Anastasia is in junior high and participating in a curriculum in school through which students learn to make moral decisions. One morning she hits the Cambridge streets with her pooper-scooper to walk her new dog. In her half-awake state, Anastasia mixes up the two plastic bags she's carrying: one containing letters to be put in the mailbox for her mother and the other with her responsible morning gatherings. She's too embarrassed to call the post office to confess, and she begins to feel more and more guilty and scared as she notices some intense local police activity in the vicinity of the mailbox. What will Anastasia do?

Gifts from the Gods

Ancient Words and Wisdom from Greek and Roman Mythology

Lise Lunge-Larsen, illustrated by Gareth Hinds

* “A treat for myth lovers and language lovers alike.” —Publishers Weekly, starred review

Did you know that museums were initially temples built to worship the nine muses? That Janus was the god of doorways and hallways, and after him we have named janitors? Where did these words—and other words, such as chaos, genius, nemesis, panic, and echo, come from? From the ancient stories of the Greeks—stories that rang so true and wise that the names of the characters have survived for centuries as words we use every day. This rich collection of myths is perfect for the classroom or as a gift book.

Lise Lunge-Larsen is the author of numerous award-winning books for children. She lives in Duluth, Minnesota. Visit her website at www.liselungelarsen.com.

Ghostbusters meets Dickens in this exciting adventure about young bogle hunters in Victorian London.

The Last Bogler

Catherine Jinks

“Fans of this richly atmospheric adventure trilogy won’t want to miss the final volume.” —Booklist

With the plague of bogles in Victorian London barely contained, bogle hunter Alfred Bunce needs all the help he can get. So Ned Roach becomes a bogler’s apprentice, luring child-eating monsters from their lairs just like his friends Jem and Birdie. It’s dangerous work that takes Ned into mysterious and hidden parts of the city. The stakes get even higher for them when an old enemy appears—a threat that may be deadlier than any bogle.

Catherine Jinks grew up in Papua New Guinea and now resides in New South Wales, Australia. Her popular works for young readers include the Evil Genius series, The Reformed Vampire Support Group, and the trilogy that began with How to Catch a Bogle. Visit her website at www.catherinejinks.com.

“The strong selections that are included here, coupled with the dramatic paintings they have inspired, are likely to put readers on the trail to the poets’ further works.”
—Publishers Weekly

This diverse collection of African American poetry spans three centuries of writing in America. From lamentations to celebrations, the poems of Langston Hughes, W.E.B. Du Bois, and Gwendolyn Brooks, among others, reveal the juxtaposing themes of resistance and reconciliation, hope and despair. The eminent scholar Catherine Clinton and prize-winning artist Stephen Alcorn create a stirring tribute to these great poets.

Catherine Clinton earned her undergraduate degree in African American Studies from Harvard and her Ph.D. from Princeton. She is the author of ten books and has taught African American studies. Dr. Clinton lives in Austin, Texas.

Stephen Alcorn is an acclaimed painter and printmaker who has created artwork for anthologies. He lives in Cambridge, New York.

Science fiction combines with kidnapping and first crushes in this thrilling fantasy that's Gary D. Schmidt meets Madeleine L'Engle.

The Trap

Steve Arntson

“[A] breezy, fast-paced mystery with an engaging kid narrator. Arntson weaves classic sci-fi elements into a fresh, fantastical story ideal for middle grades on up.” —Booklist

Something strange is afoot in the quiet town of Farro, Iowa. The school's most notorious bully has gone missing without a trace, and furthermore, seventh-grader Henry Nilsson and his friends have just found an odd book stashed in the woods—a moldy instruction guide written to teach the art of “subtle travel,” a kind of out-of-body experience. The foursome will soon discover that out-of-body life isn't so subtle after all.

Steven Arntson, graduate of the Iowa Writer's Workshop, is the author of The Wikkeling and The Wrap-Up List. He writes books and music from his home in Seattle, Washington. Visit his website at www.stevenarntson.com.

Fascinating profiles of twenty scientists whose curiosity transformed our understanding of the world.

Lives of the Scientists

Experiments, Explosions (and What the Neighbors Thought)

Kathleen Krull, illustrated by Kathryn Hewitt

“Another wonderful addition to the series.” —School Library Journal

Did you know that it's believed Galileo was scolded for sassing his mom? That Isaac Newton loved to examine soap bubbles? That Albert Einstein loved to collect joke books, and that the geneticist Barbara McClintock wore a Groucho Marx disguise in public? With juicy tidbits about everything from favorite foods to first loves, the subjects of Lives of the Scientists: Experiments, Explosions (and What the Neighbors Thought) are revealed as creative, bold, and sometimes eccentric.

Kathleen Krull has written all of the books in the Lives of . . . series. She lives in San Diego, California. Visit her website at www.kathleenkrull.com.

Take a research trip to Australia to follow dolphins in the wild and answer the question “Why are dolphins so smart?”

The Dolphins of Shark Bay

Pamela S. Turner

* “Readers come away with an amazing, if sometimes blurred vision of a culture different from their own . . . A challenging, attractive eye-opener.” —School Library Journal, starred review

Ride alongside the author Pamela S. Turner and her scientific team and meet a charismatic cast of dolphin characters including Puck, Piccolo, Flute, and Dodger. You will fall in love with this crew, both human and finned, as they seek to answer the question “Just why are dolphins so smart?” What does their behavior tell us about human intelligence, captive animals, and the future of the ocean?

Pamela S. Turner is an author, mother, and world traveler. She has written numerous books for young readers, including the acclaimed Hachiko: The True Story of a Loyal Dog, Gorilla Doctors, A Life in the Wild (Charlesbridge), the acclaimed The Frog Scientist, and Project Seahorse. An account of “the other Ellis Island”—Angel Island, California, the entry point for one million Asian immigrants in the early twentieth century.

Angel Island
Gateway to Gold Mountain
Russell Freedman

* “As immigration continues to be a major issue in America, this introduction to the Angel Island experience is overdue and, most of all, welcome.” —Kirkus Reviews, starred review

Angel Island, off the coast of California, was the port of entry for Asian immigrants to the United States between 1892 and 1940. “The other Ellis Island” processed around one million people from Japan, China, and Korea. Drawing from memoirs, diaries, letters, and the “wall poems” discovered at the facility long after it closed, the author Russell Freedman describes the people who came, and why; the screening process; detention and deportation; changes in immigration policy; and the eventual renaissance of Angel Island as a historic site open to visitors. Includes archival photos, source notes, bibliography, and index.

Russell Freedman received the Newbery Medal for Lincoln: A Photobiography. He is also the recipient of three Newbery Honors, a National Humanities Medal, the Sibert Medal, the Orbis Pictus Award, and the Laura Ingalls Wilder Award. Mr. Freedman lives in New York City and travels widely to research his books.

A dual portrait of brothers and actors Edwin Booth and John Wilkes Booth, whose last name will be forever linked to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Good Brother, Bad Brother

The Story of Edwin Booth and John Wilkes Booth

James Cross Giblin

* "What a story! This is nonfiction at its finest." —School Library Journal, starred review

The award-winning author James Cross Giblin draws on first hand accounts of family, friends, and colleagues to profile actors Edwin Booth and his brother John Wilkes, the man who shot Abraham Lincoln. He traces the events leading up to the assassination and describes the effects of John Wilkes's deed on himself, his family, and his country. Comprehensive and compelling, this dual portrait illuminates a tragic moment in the nation's history and explores the complex legacy of two men—one revered, the other abhorred. Includes notes, bibliography, and index.

James Cross Giblin is the author of more than twenty critically acclaimed books for young people, including The Life and Death of Adolf Hitler, winner of the Robert F. Sibert Award for Informational Books. Mr. Giblin lives in New York City.

The Tapir Scientist

Saving South America's Largest Mammal

Sy Montgomery, photographs by Nic Bishop

* "Profiles of scientists and ranchers, discussions of other animals . . . Bishop's typically electric photography . . . combine to create a full, fascinating picture of tapirs and one place they call home, as well as the work being done to protect them."
—Publishers Weekly, starred review

If you've never seen a lowland tapir, you're not alone. Most of the people who live near tapir habitat in Brazil's Pantanal ("the Everglades on steroids") also haven't seen the snorkel-snouted mammal. In this arresting nonfiction picture book, Sibert winners Sy Montgomery and Nic Bishop join a tapir-finding expedition led by the Brazilian field scientist Pati Medici.

Chew On This 10th Anniversary Edition
Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Fast Food
—Eric Schlosser and Charles Wilson stimulating, with a startling expose on this country's pervasive, lucrative fast-food industry.

—Publishers Weekly

Kids love fast food and the fast food industry loves kids. When Eric Schlosser's best-selling book Fast Food Nation was published for adults in 2001, many called for his groundbreaking insight to be shared with young people. In Chew On This, Eric Schlosser and Charles Wilson share the truth about what lurks between those sesame seed buns, what a chicken "nugget" really is, and how the fast food industry has been feeding off children for generations.

This edition features a new introduction by Eric Schlosser.

Eric Schlosser is a journalist who has won many accolades for his reporting. In 1998, he wrote an investigative piece for Rolling Stone that became the bestseller Fast Food Nation. He lives in Monterey, California.

Charles Wilson has written for several newspapers and magazines, including the New York Times and the Washington Post. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Two teenagers come together to save a mistreated dog in this heart-wrenching and page-turning young adult novel.

Whippoorwill

Joseph Monninger

“Unexpected, generous, and poignant.” —Huntley Fitzpatrick, author of What I Thought Was True

Sixteen-year-old Clair Taylor has neighbors who are what locals call whippoorwills, the kind of people who fill their yards with rusty junk. Clair tries to ignore her surroundings, choosing instead to dream of a future beyond her rural New Hampshire town. But when a black dog named Wally is chained up to a pole next door, she can't look the other way. Clair decides to save Wally, and the immediate connection she has with the lovable dog catches her off-guard, but even more surprising is her bond with eighteen-year-old Danny Stewart, the boy next door.

Joseph Monninger is an English professor and New Hampshire guide. He is the author of the young adult novels Finding Somewhere, Wish, Hippie Chick, and Baby. He also writes fiction and nonfiction for adults. He lives in Warren, New Hampshire.

An Inheritance of Ashes

Leah Bobet

“A compelling interrogation of faith versus science . . . an elevation from the run-of-the-mill dystopia.” —The Bulletin

The strange war down south—with its rumors of gods and monsters—is over. And while sixteen-year-old Hallie and her sister wait to see who will return from the distant battlefield, they struggle to maintain their family farm. When Hallie hires a veteran to help, the war comes home in ways no one could have imagined, and soon Hallie is taking dangerous risks—and keeping desperate secrets. But even as she slowly learns more about the war and the men who fought it, ugly truths about her own family are emerging.

We'll Never Be Apart

Emiko Jean

“Realistic characters make good use of a gothic setting that will attract anyone with a taste for the edge.” —Kirkus Reviews

Murder. Fire. Revenge.

That's all seventeen-year-old Alice Monroe thinks about. Committed to a mental ward, Alice is haunted by memories of the fire that killed her boyfriend. A blaze her twin sister, Cellie, set. But when Chase, a mysterious, charismatic patient, agrees to help her seek vengeance, Alice begins to rethink everything. Writing out the story of her troubled past in a journal, she must confront hidden truths. Nothing is as it seems in this edge-of-your-seat psychological thriller.

Emiko Jean is an elementary school math teacher whose work with children in foster care inspired We'll Never Be Apart. She lives with her husband in Seattle, Washington.

now in paperback!

Games Wizards Play

Diane Duane

“A delightful treat for dedicated fans.” —Kirkus Reviews

In the tenth installment in the Young Wizards series, a planetwide wizardry competition is packed with drama and excitement. Wizardly partners Kit Rodriguez and Nita Callahan, and Nita’s sister, Dairine, are drafted to mentor two brilliant yet difficult up-and-coming young wizards. Together they’re plunged into a whirlwind of cutthroat competition. When both candidates make it through to the finals stage on the dark side of the Moon, they and their mentors are flung into a conflict that could change the solar system for the better . . . or damage Earth beyond even wizardly repair.

Diane Duane is the author of nearly fifty science fiction and fantasy novels, including ten books in the Young Wizards series. Four of her Star Trek novels have been New York Times bestsellers, including Spock’s World. She lives with her husband in rural Ireland. A stunning young adult debut about life—and love—perfect for fans of Gayle Forman, Rainbow Rowell, and Jandy Nelson.

This Raging Light

Estelle Laure

“A funny, poetic, big-hearted reminder that life can—and will—take us all by surprise.” —Jennifer E. Smith, The Statistical Probability of Love at First Sight

Can the best thing happen at the worst time?

Her dad went crazy. Her mom left town. She has bills to pay and a little sister to look after. Now is not the time for level-headed seventeen-year-old Lucille to fall in love. But love—messy, inconvenient love—is what she’s about to experience when she falls for Digby Jones, her best friend’s brother. With blazing longing that builds to a fever pitch, Estelle Laure’s soulful debut will keep readers hooked and hoping until the very last page.

The debut author Estelle Laure is a Vonnegut worshiper who believes in love, magic, and the power of facing hard truths. She has a BA in theater arts and an MFA from Vermont College of Fine Arts in writing for children and young adults. She lives with her two children in Taos, New Mexico.

The story of Rosalie Gardiner Jones's 1913 marches in support of a woman's right to vote.

March of the Suffragettes

Rosalie Gardiner Jones and the March for Voting Rights

Zachary Michael Jack

In 1912 and 1913 a young activist named Rosalie Gardiner Jones formed an all-woman army and marched five hundred miles across five states, demanding equal rights for women. “General” Jones and her all-female band of “colonels” and “lieutenants” were a shocking affront to many, but they walked through snow and sleet from Manhattan to Albany in an important gesture that would help facilitate the passage of the suffrage acts only seven years later. The story has been largely forgotten over time, but it is well worth reconsidering — especially now, as we renew our engagement with questions of civil and voting rights across America.

Zachary Michael Jack has published more than twenty award-winning books in a variety of genres. His fiction has earned national runner-up honors in the Foreword Reviews' Book of the Year Award; his poetry has been awarded the Prentice Hall Prize, and his nonfiction has received nominations for the Pushcart Prize.

A wide-ranging history that provides a clear-eyed portrait of a deeply mysterious icon of the human imagination: the witch.

Witches and Witchcraft

A History

Richard Faulk

The witch is an indelible part of our cultural imagination, but what do we really know about her? Is she a hapless victim of history or symbol of female resistance? What's really the difference between a wise elder and an old crone? Witches and Witchcraft sifts through the rich and contradictory evidence to trace the development of the witch as a cultural phenomenon. Ultimately, the changing face of the witch is a mirror of our constantly changing ideas of spirituality, magic, creativity, gender, and the human relationship with the natural world. The witch's story is far from over.

Richard Faulk is the author of The Next Big Thing: A History of the Boom-or-Bust Moments that Shaped the Modern World (Zest Books, 2015) and Gross America: Your Coast-to-Coast Guide to All Things Gross (2012). He has contributed to the Huffington Post, CNN.com, Mental Floss, and more.

An approachable, research-backed guide that will equip middle grade readers with the tools they need to become everyday heroes.

The Life Heroic

How to Unleash Your Most Amazing Self

Elizabeth Svoboda

Heroes are superhuman. Or, at least, it's easy to assume that, when you read ripped-from-the-news stories of derring-do. But in reality, almost anyone who's motivated can be a hero, and the heroes who make the biggest impact aren't always the ones who make headlines. This approachable, research-backed guide will equip kids with the tools they need to become an everyday hero. Along the way, you'll hear from real heroes living out the truth of psychologist Phil Zimbardo's words: "Most heroes are ordinary. It's the act of heroism that's extraordinary."

Elizabeth Svoboda is a science writer who has contributed to the New York Times, Psychology Today, and O: the Oprah Magazine. Her first book, What Makes a Hero?: The Surprising Science of Selflessness, came out in 2013 and was excerpted in Discover and the Wall Street Journal. She lives in San Jose, CA, with her husband and young son.

An examination of the bloody – and sometimes gruesome – evolution of medicine from the colonial era up until the late 1800s

Bleed, Blister, Puke, and Purge

America's Medical Middle Ages

J. Marin Younker

Riots over the medical use of cadavers. Public access to institutions for the insane. Full-blown surgeries without the aid of anesthetics or painkillers. Welcome to the middle ages of American medicine! Bleed, Blister, Puke, and Purge exposes the extraordinary practices and major players of American medical history, from the colonial era to the late 1800s. It's hard to believe that today's cutting-edge medicine originated from such crude beginnings, but this book reminds us to be grateful for today's medical care, while also raising the question: what current medical practices will be the horrors of tomorrow?

J. Marin Younker worked as a public librarian for thirteen years, book-talking in the schools, leading book groups, talking to teens, and managing teen collections. She earned a degree in History from Western Washington University, and now lives in the Seattle area with her family and animal menagerie.

A biography of the US Supreme Court's first Latina justice

Sonia Sotomayor

A Biography

Sylvia Mendoza

Arguably one of the most prominent current Supreme Court justices, Sonia Sotomayor has paved her own way to enact profound changes and reforms, despite the obstacles that stood in her way. And she certainly has had her share of adversity: she was diagnosed with diabetes when she was just eight years old, lived in housing projects in the Bronx in her youth, and fought against blatant discrimination throughout her career. Now in her early sixties, Justice Sotomayor has already made history in being appointed to the Court as the first Latina justice, the third woman justice, and one of the three youngest justices in this position.

Sylvia Mendoza is a writer, editor, and speaker on the Latino experience and gender issues. She has written for the Los Angeles Times, Writers' Journal, Hispanic Outlook, and more. She has also been a featured speaker for the National Women's History Project.

Things We Haven't Said
Stories of Abuse and Recovery
Erin Moulton

Statistically, teens are the demographic most affected by rape, sexual assault, and sexual abuse, and yet the topic is shrouded by stigma and silence. Things We Haven't Said seeks to make a change by providing teens with stories that engage, questions for further discussion, and resources that could save a life. These twenty stories – coming from a diverse but uniformly impressive group of women – open the door to new conversations on one of the hardest topics we will ever have to address. But it's a conversation that we need to start having now.

Erin Moulton is the author of several novels including Flutter, winner of the 2014 Bluegrass Award and on the list of the 2012 Amelia Bloomer Project list, and Tracing Stars, which received starred reviews from Booklist and Kirkus. Her YA novel, Keepers of the Labyrinth, came out last summer.

From the celebrated star of the US women's national soccer team, an inspiring, uplifting, and candid memoir of how she got there

When Nobody Was Watching

My Hard-Fought Journey to Soccer's Summit

Carli Lloyd and Wayne Coffey

In 2015, the US women's national soccer team won its first FIFA championship in sixteen years, culminating in an epic final game that electrified soccer fans around the world. It also featured a gutsy, brilliant performance by team captain and midfielder Carli Lloyd, who made history that day, scoring a hat trick—three goals in one game—during the first sixteen minutes.

But there was a time when Carli almost quit the sport. In 2003 she was struggling, her soccer career at a crossroads. Then she found a trusted trainer, James Galanis, who saw in Carli a player with raw talent, skill, and a great head for the game. What Carli lacked were fitness, mental toughness, and character. Together they set to work, training, fighting, gritting it out. No one worked harder than Carli. And no one believed in her more than James. Despite all the naysayers, the times she was benched, moments when her self-confidence took a nosedive, she succeeded in becoming one of the best in the world.

This candid reflection on a remarkable turnaround will take readers inside the women's national team and inside the head of an athlete who willed herself to perform at the highest levels of competition.

CARLI LLOYD is the captain of the US national soccer team that won the 2015 FIFA Women's World Cup. She also represented the US team in the 2008 and 2012 Summer Olympics finals. WAYNE COFFEY is an award-winning sports journalist and the New York Times best-selling author of more than thirty books.

Cataloging-in-Publication Program

Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Children's Book Group participates in the Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Program (CIP).

Manuscript Submissions

The Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Children's Book Group is no longer responding to unsolicited manuscripts unless there is interest. Please do not include a self-addressed stamped envelope. Please send a typed, double-spaced manuscript. We do not accept manuscripts that are hand written, faxed, posted on the Internet, on computer disk, or submitted electronically. Because of the volume of manuscripts we receive each day, we cannot track your submission and it may take up to twelve weeks before we reach a decision. We look forward to reading your manuscript!

For Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, address your submission to Submissions Coordinator.

For Clarion Books, address your submission to Dinah Stevenson, Publisher.

Artwork Submissions

Artists who wish to illustrate children's books should submit printed samples or electronic images. Material to be returned should be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope. Please do not send original artwork.

For Houghton Mifflin Books for Children, please address art submissions to Sheila Smallwood, Creative Director.

For Clarion Books, please address art submissions to Christine Kettner, Art Director.

Promotion
